Table Talk

There is an annual event carried out by our local PBS station called the “Longest Table”. While the station uses this device as a fund-raising tool, I’ve begun to think in broader theological terms. Just imagine what it might be like if we placed a table instead of built a wall? What if instead of a sit-in we sat down and broke bread? Perhaps, that sounds too altruistic, but isn’t that precisely what God in Christ has called us to do?

As the director of a humanitarian organization, I have been moved recently by Godly moments found at the table. It was at the table that I heard stories from staff and farmworkers on their struggles just to stay warm during the winter months. It was at the table that I sat down with other volunteers to share a meal with farmworkers returning from the fields on a cold, rainy, afternoon.

Most families go without heat during our relatively short winter—foregoing a heater and blankets for food and clothing for their children—difficult choices that heretofore slipped beyond my peripheral vision. Just imagine you and your children huddled together in one bed to stay warm on one of those 30-degree nights, or your feet wet and numb from the cold after a day in the fields?

Life at the table offers us the opportunity to fill our souls with those transformational moments to see life around us from an entirely different vantage point, moving us (I pray) into new understanding, compassion, and action. So, won't you join me at the table? This month's newsletter is filled with opportunities to break bread together, beginning with a luncheon on February 15th at one of our local farms. Wouldn't it be wonderful to create the longest table for all God's children to come and dine together? What would that look like in your eyes, and how might that perspective transform your soul?

A Small Surprise; A Big Smile

Her name is Elizabeth. She is the daughter of one of the many families that come every week to utilize the services offered at Beth-El. Her story came to my attention through the work of one of our partner agencies.

After scoring very low on her fine motor skills testing, Elizabeth's mom was told that therapy would help her daughter, however, the mom was very willing to work with her daughter to get her where she needed to be.

After the case worker from the partner organization visited her home for the first time, she noticed the girl had no toys to play with, so she provided her with some toys like chalk, coloring books, and other things. She worked with the girl for a couple of months and then re-did the assessment. This time the little girl's score increased significantly.

As the case worker shared the data with me, I noticed that the little girl's gross motor skills score were also very low, probably not as low as the other one, but nevertheless low. After seeing this, I wondered if this little girl had a bicycle, so I asked the case manager and she said, "no". The next day, the mom came to Beth-El with her little girl, sister and nephew. After completing the intake, I decided that the little girl qualified for a bike. I went to our storage and picked one out. When the little girl saw the bicycle her face lit up so bright it was amazing, it was almost like seeing God through her. I saw how joyful and grateful she was for her new bike and the impact of the work we do here.

When I first started working at Beth-El I only had an idea of how great the needs are in our community. It was overwhelming. How could I reach out to all these people in need? Now, I see what an impact just a small moment of sharing can have.

One of the things that I really appreciate is when we go out to the farms and the people tell you how grateful they are. For example, when we pass out the bags we only have 30 minutes with the farm workers and a couple of seconds of interaction with each one of them, but as quickly as the time passes, there is always time for a “thank you” or “God bless you.” Being able to receive those blessings from each one of them is the most meaningful thing to me and my favorite part of this work.

I hope that you too can share in the joy that was brought to Elizabeth and all of the families we serve. Now I pass those blessings on to you and your loved ones.

God bless you,

Preparing for Lent

The Beth-El worshipping community is preparing to enter the Christian season of Lent, making plans and engaging in ministry and mission: including a prayer vigil, more regular youth ministry and volunteering to serve a meal at a local farm. We welcome your presence and your prayers.

As I continue to get to know church members through singing together, praying together, and studying God's word together, I am very aware that presence is a powerful thing. Every time we gather for worship or ministry we remember and celebrate God's presence with us and we celebrate the ways we are present to and for each other during times of joy and times of difficulty. I am reminded especially of our Tuesday worship services where our community gathers to pray to God about what we are concerned about and what we hope for, and to share testimony about how God is working in our lives. On Sunday morning, we worship and praise God, remembering the Good News recognizing the life events of birthdays, wedding anniversaries and new visitors. Please pray for us as we continue the search for a bilingual music director.

During Lent we take time to focus on the life and ministry of Jesus Christ and his call to faithfulness and discipleship. Worshipping community leaders work through the Beth-El Advisory Committee to continue to train leaders who will serve on the Christian education committee, the worship committee and an upcoming congregational care committee. The Youth group is now meeting regularly and will focus on Bible Study, discipleship, fellowship and service. Currently we are making plans for fundraisers to empower youth ministry.

Our English-speaking youth look forward to joint events with other local youth groups and we are always looking for new partners. We have a new dedicated youth space and will happily receive donations to make our space more comfortable and welcoming.

We have music rehearsal every Friday and a couple of weeks ago a member of the group suggested we sing a hymn “Cuando el Pobre” which in English is “When a Poor One” or alternately, “When the Poor Ones.” I was very happy to learn the community knew this hymn as it has been one of my favorites for decades, since my times of mission service. I felt the Holy Spirit moving among us as we practiced the hymn and then the whole community sang it in worship. As I end this message to you all, I share the words of the hymn in both Spanish and English as we consider Jesus life and his ministry and his call to discipleship.

Peace and Blessings,

“Cuando el Pobre” “When The Poor Ones”

Spanish original:

Translation

1. Cuando el pobre nada tiene y aun reparte, cuando el hombre pasa sed y agua nos da, cuando el débil a su hermano fortalece, [Estribillo] va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar, va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar.
2. Cuando sufre un hombre y logra su consuelo, cuando espera y no se cansa de esperar, cuando amamos, aunque el odio nos rodee, [Estribillo] va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar, va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar.
3. Cuando crece la alegría y nos inunda, cuando dicen nuestros labios la verdad, cuando amamos el sentir de los sencillos, [Estribillo] va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar, va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar.
4. Cuando abunda el bien y llena los hogares, cuando un hombre donde hay guerra pone paz, cuando “hermano” le llamamos al extraño, [Estribillo] va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar, va Dios mismo en nuestro mismo caminar.
- Miguel Manzano, J.A. Olivar

1. When the poor ones who have nothing share with strangers, when the thirsty water give unto us all, when the crippled in their weakness strengthen others, [Refrain] then we know that God still goes that road with us, then we know that God still goes that road with us.
2. When at last all those who suffer find their comfort, when they hope though even hope seems hopeless, when we love though hate at times seems all around us, [Refrain]
3. When our joy fills up our cup to overflowing, when our lips can speak no words other than true, when we know that love for simple things is better, [Refrain]
4. When our homes are filled with goodness in abundance, when we learn how to peace instead of war, when each stranger that we meet is called a neighbor, [Refrain] then we know that God still goes that road with us, then we know that God still goes that road with us.
